Abstract

Before the advent of Tiger Woods, Tom Kite excelled and reached professional golf earning plateaus never dreamed of before. He began at the feet of the Austin Country Club golf legend, Harvey Penick. Kite and Ben Crenshaw starred together, both at the Austin Country Club and on the University of Texas Longhorn golf team. Kite honed his craft with countless hours of practice and became one of the most consistent performers in PGA Tour history. He thought of the wedge as an indispensable part of golfing success. His work ethic and the inimitable style of his glasses and hats made him a fan favorite. Golf fans worldwide reveled in Kite's victory at the 1992 U.S. Open at Pebble Beach, a fitting tribute to his hard work and dedication. The golf courses on which Kite competed inspired him to begin creating his own and he has succeeded in the completion of twelve such efforts.

Biographical Note

Born on December 9, 1949 in McKinney, Texas, Tom Kite went on to become one of the most successful professional golfers ever. Kite grew up in Austin, Texas with another soon to be famous golfer, Ben Crenshaw. Kite picked up golf at the age of six and triumphed in a tournament before his twelfth birthday. Tom Kite practiced relentlessly from the time he was a boy, and his dedication to the sport became his hallmark. His battles with Crenshaw while at McCallum High School prepared Kite to attain storied college golf career heights. Both he and Crenshaw attended the University of Texas at Austin and benefitted from the coaching of George Hannon, the UT golf coach; and from that of the legendary Harvey Penick, head professional at the Austin Country Club from 1923 to 1971. Kite and Crenshaw tied for the NCAA Individual Championship in 1972, while their Longhorn golf teams achieved NCAA team titles in 1971 and 1972.

Tom Kite swiftly rose to prominence, capturing PGA Rookie of the Year honors in 1973. He parlayed his success as a collegiate golfer into a prolific professional career in which he won 19 PGA Tour titles, including the 1992 U.S. Open at Pebble Beach. Furthermore, Kite participated in seven Ryder Cups (1979, 1981, 1983, 1985, 1987, 1989 and 1993). Moreover, Kite captained the 1997 United States Ryder Cup team at Valderrama, Spain. He was a master around the greens and perfected the use of the wedge, becoming the first player to include three such chipping clubs in his golf bag. His fabulous short game led to dependable scores. As a result, Kite stood apart as the only golfer to win at least one PGA Tour title every year from 1981 to 1987. He became instantly recognizable with his trademark glasses and hats. Kite set new PGA earning marks for a career and credited Harvey Penick for all of his accomplishments, very high praise. Kite's exploits also subsume 10 PGA Champions Tour titles. The World Golf Hall of Fame welcomed Kite into its membership in 2004.

Kite has continued his stellar career with a foray into the golf course design business, with several courses now extant in Texas and Oklahoma. Another course Kite engendered with the aid of Bob Cupp, Vanderbilt Legends Club (in Nashville, Tennessee), will host the 2012 NCAA Women's Championships. So far, Kite has molded twelve golf courses according to his golfing ethos. Kite believes in designing golf courses that allow players of all abilities to both compete and be tested. He further feels that his time on the best golf courses in the world affords him the ability to apply their championship qualities to his own course design efforts. Topography, vegetation and streams all add to the ambience of a Tom Kite course and create priceless golfing memories. In addition, Kite strives to warn golfers of the danger of too much sun. He gained a great respect for its rays, hence the wide-brimmed hats. Tom Kite continues to give back to the game that transformed him into a household name and a sports legend.

Scope and Content

Tom Kite Papers: 53 Boxes, 38 Folders: 173 money clips, 159 pins and name badges, 67 letters, 54 medals and medallions, 39 trophies, 32 scrapbooks, 29 films, 23 pieces of jewelry, 18 bag tags, 17 plaques, 7 framed items, 7 pieces of sports equipment, 2 blankets, 2 pieces of clothing, 2 plate weights, 2 statues, 1 rug and 169 miscellaneous items, 1895-2010 (779 items)

The Tom Kite Papers subsume a great variety of items. The money clips and pins derive from myriad tournaments while the letters cover both family and business correspondence. The scrapbooks, compiled by Kite's mother, are an invaluable asset in the research of Kite's life and career. The films offer more insight and the chance to see Tom Kite's famous swing in action. The jewelry is an interesting facet of the collection. The bag tags and plaques offer researchers the chance to feel like they attended the events therein represented. The framed items, sports equipment, blankets, clothing, plate weights, statues and rug offer yet more insight into Kite's golf career. Finally, the miscellaneous items cover a wide range, from PGA patches to an autographed football.
